Issue/Concern  College Goals

Provide information, which succinctly but fully discusses the issue/concern (if necessary, add additional pages).

A. Describe the issue/concern:
With a new college president, the college has the opportunity to develop a method for providing input into the annual college goals. College goals take on more significance as the results of planning are used to establish resource priorities for the college (required by accreditation). In developing a new method, it is important to take adequate time and provide sufficient opportunity for each of the college's groups to have a voice in the process. However, the college also needs to have goals identified for the district Chancellor by July 2006. This required July timeline for producing college goals for 2006-07 conflicts with the time needed for the discussion of the process by the college community.

B. What do you recommend or suggest solving this issue/concern?
In order to meet both needs (to take time to develop a process and to identify college goals by July), the Planning Committee (PRIE) proposes two separate steps. The first step is an emergency process for developing college goals for this year only, in order to meet the July deadline. The college goals produced by this emergency procedure will be used in the 2006-07 unit planning cycle.

1. As an emergency process for 2006-07 only, the PRIE Committee proposes three possible solutions:
   a. The college President determines the college goals as has been done in the past,
   b. Executive Council recommends that the President use the output of the Jan. 12th Flex activity to develop college goals, or
   c. The PRIE Committee uses the output of the flex activity as the starting place for developing college goals. The goals developed by the PRIE Committee are then submitted to Executive Council, which represents all constituencies, by May 1st for review and recommendation.

2. The second step is for the PRIE Committee to develop a long-term process for developing college goals and submit this proposal to Executive Council on a Campus Issue Form by the end of September 2006. Once finalized, the new process will be used to develop college goals by July 2007 for the 2007-08 unit plans. This time frame clearly separates the emergency procedure from the discussion of the long-term solution and will prevent confusion of the two processes.

C. How will this recommendation support the success of SCC students and benefit the campus community?
Adopting this two step process allows time for the college to develop a long term goal development method that meets the needs of all constituent groups while also ensuring that college goals are developed to meet the July 2006 deadline.
