Provide information, which succinctly but fully discusses the issue/concern (if necessary, add additional pages).

A. Describe the issue/concern: Faculty and staff can spend considerable time investing in the college and our students through Homecoming committee membership and club advising. These activities, in turn, help to promote student involvement and participation in shared governance. There is a clear need to increase Homecoming committee membership, awareness of club advising opportunities, and students serving on standing committees.

B. What do you recommend or suggest solving this issue/concern? It is recommended that service through the Homecoming committee and club advising fulfill one’s shared governance obligation. This will help to increase Homecoming committee membership and awareness of club advising opportunities. The individuals serving in these capacities further help to promote student involvement and participation in shared governance. Finally, as we move to the compressed calendar, these opportunities will provide shared governance alternatives for individuals unable to attend Friday meetings.

C. How will this recommendation support the success of SCC students and benefit the campus community? Facilitating faculty/staff involvement with Homecoming and clubs directly supports students. Students learn a tremendous amount through their co-curricular activities and the experiential components of college life. Learning becomes far more intentional and directed when students work together with faculty/staff. In addition to learning, we all benefit from a college that has “life.” Clubs and Homecoming most definitely add to the vitality of SCC. Lastly, supporting faculty and staff in these roles will help to further strengthen student leaders on campus and their contributions to shared governance.
